

MARK BOYDEN

MBA, MA Psychotherapy, Ad.Dip, MBACP, UKCP, FCMI, MioD, CCCP

OVERVIEW

Mark Boyden has enjoyed a long and successful global career in diverse senior executive leadership roles within private and public sector organisations working with HNWIs and UHNWIs and as an accomplished entrepreneur and business owner; as a member of the Executive Committee for the Aga Khan Fund for Economic Development, Mark worked across 27 countries liaising with senior government ministers and heads of state, with leadership responsibility for capital spending and controlling financial and operating performance alongside the approval of investment proposals.

Earlier in his career as a sought-after management consultant, Mark specialised in formulating strategic business transformation processes and the financial management of Blue Chip and public sector organisations such as NHS Services, St James Hospital, Leeds, Plastona Ltd, John Waddingtons PLC, Waddingtons Cartons Ltd and Wynford Investments (a Canadian holding company).

As the founder of a successful high-end adventure company for the discerning traveler, Mark's entrepreneurial flair came to the fore creating ventures including 30,000 kilometre expeditions through the Australian outback and rainforests and logistical responsibility for a US$5million diving vessel exploring remote areas of the Pacific.

In Mark's subsequent training and career as a psychotherapist these experiences combined, giving Mark unique insights into the everyday challenges of senior-level leadership and business responsibility across diverse industry sectors. With expertise in areas such as Senior Executive Coaching, Dispute Resolution, Addiction, Anxiety, Stress, Depression, Trauma & PTSD, Mark is uniquely positioned to work with a wide range of senior-level executives and the family offices of HNWIs and UHNW individuals.
